Auditions for RCT

One Act Plays

After an intensive search throughout the state, Rome Community Theater has selected four original one act plays to be performed at the theater on October 19th and 20th at its annual One Act Play Festival. This year we will be performing these exciting shows; "Mother's Work" by Robert Karmon directed by Carl DeFranco, "Pass the Horseradish" by Susan Shafer directed by Ryan Oliver, "Stick-em-up" by George Bryjak directed by Fred Normand and "Going Up" by George Bryjak directed by Joshua Ball. Auditions for the one act plays will be held at the theater on September 26th at 8pm. No experience is needed. The One Act Festival is sponsored by the Rome Savings Bank.

Play Reading Needs You!

Eric Jones is chairman of the RCT play reading committee. This committee is responsible for reading and evaluating all plays submitted for consideration for production as regular season shows at RCT. The committee then recommends four shows for the upcoming season to the RCT Board. The first meeting of the Play Reading Committee to consider plays for the 2008-2009 season will be on Monday, October 15th, at 7PM, at the theater. All are invited to be members of the committee and to come to this meeting. Plays are submitted for consideration to the committee by qualified directors at RCT. All directors are cordially invited to submit to Eric the titles of plays that you propose to direct for the 2008-2009 season at RCT. Questions can be directed to Eric at EJones4228@aol.com or by calling him at 337-6745.
